An Extremely Palatable, Highly-Fortified and Nutritionally Balanced Supplement for Wild Turkeys

The FeatherTech team of commercial Poultry Professionals has over 100 years of combined experience and has known for years that periods of nutritional deficiency cause weak areas (stress lines) in the feathers of domestic turkeys. The founders of FeatherTech are also experienced sportsmen who have documented the same problem in wild turkeys.

THE PROBLEM

Wild Turkey beards are modified feathers. The founders of FeatherTech realized that the negative effects of nutritional deficiencies are even more prominent and severe in the beards of tom turkeys. The continuously growing beard bristles break at the stress lines that result from these deficiencies.

Having the balanced nutrition provided by Beard Builder™ wild turkey nutritional supplements available on a continuous basis maximizes the benefits to feather and beard development. Even a short-term (days rather than weeks) deficiency of key nutrients is detrimental, especially for the beard because it grows year round.

Using Beard Builder™ wild turkey nutritional supplement as directed provides a safe, effective tool to maintain and improve the quality of turkeys on your property.

Why Do You Need Beard Builder™ Supplement For Your Wild Turkeys?

Because You Want Bigger Toms With Longer Beards!

The turkey beard grows continuously at a rate of 4-5 inches per year, but weak areas (stress lines) cause the beard to break when it grows long enough to drag the ground. Continuous balanced nutrition prevents weak areas in the beard and

Because You Want More Turkeys On Your Property!

The continuous balanced nutrition provided by Beard Builder™ supplement encourages visiting wild turkeys to stay in an area where you want them. Research proves that balanced nutrition improves egg production of hen turkeys.
